Yes, you can make money on eBay! To some, it seems hard to imagine that knickknack they had on the shelf could bring in enough money to buy that new dress, or more relevant these days, buy gas.

However, in order to list on eBay we have to pay fees, just as you would in the local newspaper, Moneysaver, or other auction markets.

While it would be impossible to list all fees associated with selling your items on eBay, we have come up with this brochure to explain most of the fees, and what they are charged for.

Insertion Fees (paid to eBay)

These fees are for basic insertion of your item or listing. They are charged every 7 days, if the items do not sell. It is an additional fee to have a photo displayed in the gallery, additional photo options are available for additional fees.

If you want a Reserve on your auction, there is also another small fee for that, please ask the attendant if you wish this or want to find out about other options. These fees must be paid in advance to connect-me.com. They are not part of the FVP.

HPS Fees

These fees are for scanning or taking photos of your item, weekly storage of your item, and handling of your items. These fees must be paid in advance to connect-me.com. They are not part of the FVP.

eBay Final Value Fees

eBay charges fees based on the final sale amount of your item. They call these fees the Final Value Fee. There is also a small fee if the customer pays by PayPal. If your item does not sell, these fees are not charged.

These fees do not include fees charged by connect-me.com for our Final Value Percentage.

Insertion Fees (other fees may apply)
Starting or Reserve Price	Insertion Fee*
$25.00 - $49.99	$2.85

$500.00 or More	$13.65

If you are interested in these options, or others, please ask.

Final Value Percentage

If your item sells, and most will, connect-me.com will collect a set percentage of the Final Sale of item(s) prior to paying our clients.

If your item does not sell, these fees will not be charged.

The percentages updated as of 03/07/07

Final Value Percentages
V	VIP	20% of the final sale
